Dedication

To my father, Charles Gilpin Smith, known best as "Gilp" Smith, we dedicate this record of the descendants of James Smith, who settled in Bedford County, Southampton Township, along Sideling Hill Creek in the late 1790's.

Gilp Smith left for the west about 1889, passing through Chicago and settling in Omaha, Nebraska. He found work in the American Smelting and Refining Co. By diligence and faithful work he advanced from coal passer to certified stationary steam engineer.

Failing eyesight resulted in total blindness in 1904.

—Warren Scott Smith

Introduction

A desire to obtain information and facts regarding a particular James Smith family and his descendants was the moving force to compile the record contained in this book. Casual questions asked by my children 25 years ago, was a driving force to continue the effort until completed. Had my father remained in southern Bedford County in Pennsylvania our curiosity regarding relatives and ancestors would probably have been satisfied.

We have made every effort to include all families, but we know some have been missed. We have checked and rechecked, but we know there will be errors. We had hopes of going back to the original Smith coming to this country, but we have been unable to go beyond James Smith's coming to Bedford County in the late 1790's or 1800.

For source material we have used the library of William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va., the Department of Records at Annapolis, Md., the Genealogical Library at Harrisburg, Pa., the National Archives at Washington, D. C., War of 1812, Census-1790, 1840, and 1850, the tax and Orphans' Court records of Bedford County, Pa., the Records of the Christian Church of Pa., Watermans and Watkins History of Bedford, Somerset, and Fulton Counties, 1884. The Genealogical Library of Arizona, Phoenix, Ariz., and the Mormon Church Library at Mesa, Arizona.

To the memories of our relatives and their diligence in getting facts and information, my deep appreciation for their help. To Bertha Shipley, Willie Elbin, Rilda Smith, Cora Lepley, Theodore Northcraft, Freda Smith, my sincere gratitude for your help. To Ione Card Smith, my daughter-in-law, for her enthusiasm and her ideas. To my wife, Nancy Jane Smith, deep appreciation of her faith and her patience in sitting in the car, going shopping, sitting at home, while I spent hours and hours haunting libraries, old court house records, and cemeteries.

Historical Data on the Development of Bedford and Fulton Counties

The rugged area in the southern part of Bedford County had tremendous influence on the type of settler that sought a homestead in this area. This area was no place for a merchant, politician or professional man. The mountains were steep, roads were but trails made by hostile Indians. Hunters and frontiersmen were the type needed to conquer this area. To better understand this area and its people it is well to note the political development through the years.

Year

1732—First white settlers in the Bedford area.

1751—Started settlement called Raystown for Robert Ray.

1758—Settlers were Scotch-Irish Presbyterians with some Germans of Reformed faith.

Raystown village changed name to Bedford.

Virginia claimed all lands west of Laurel Hill and north to and including Fort Pitt.

Virginia issued certificates for land in disputed area for ten shillings per hundred acres.

1769—Boundary line between Pennsylvania and Maryland in dispute from 1682. A compromise was reached in 1769 through the English surveyors George Mason and Jeremiah Dixon; boundary known thereafter as the Mason and Dixon line.

William Penn purchased from the Indians for 10,000 pounds, all the western part of Pennsylvania and advertised in the Philadelphia papers for applications by settlers to purchase lands at five pounds per hundred acres and one penny per acre annual rent.

“Tomahawk Claims” were used to denote limits of claims by deadening trees and cutting initials thereon. Very few disputes were recorded.

1770—First deed recorded.

1771—March 19. Bedford County formed from Cumberland County.

1772—First tax rolls. Population 1700. Taxables 350.

1812—Captain Solomon Sparks raised two companies of militia, War of 1812.

1818—August 1. Cumberland Road opened to Wheeling, Va. (First road over the Alleghenies).

1850—Fulton County formed from Bedford County.

1876—December 8. Mann Township formed from Southampton Township.

Early Churches Organized in Bedford County, Pennsylvania

Fairview Christian Church

Most of the churches organized in southern Bedford County were of Christian denomination and were started prior to the formation of Fulton County in 1850 and Mann Township in 1876.

Among the many elders prominent in organizing were the following: Reverend John Smith, Benjamin Seever, W. G. Proctor, James Pennell, Abram Miller, B. A. Cooper, J. M. McDaniel, Samuel Logue, Garland and Ramsey.

In 1844 an organization known as Rays Hill Conference was formed.

Records show the following churches were organized.

- 1825—Mount Zion Christian Church. (Discontinued about 1956.)
- 1838—Fairview Christian Church, organized by John Smith, Benjamin Seever, W. G. Proctor, James Pennell, Abram Miller, B. A. Cooper, J. M. McDaniel and Samuel Logue.
- 1840—Mt. Hope Christian Church organized by Elders Long, Sells, Lewis, Ramsey, Proctor, Smith, Pennell, Cooper and Garland.
- 1843—Prosperity Christian Church by John Smith, James Ramsey.
- 1843—Sept. 18. Pleasant Grove Christian Church by John Smith, James Ramsey.
- 1845—Bethel Christian Church by John Smith and James Pennell.
- 1854—Greenfield Christian Church by John Smith and James Pennell.

Schools—Southampton Township

The school law of 1834 called for schools on a monthly tuition basis.

In 1836 the free school law was passed and thirteen log cabin type schools were built.

Strong opposition to free schools developed and in 1857 a board of directors were chosen. However, they refused to serve.

There were no schools from 1857 to 1866 when schools were re-opened through court action.

James Smith

James Smith, 1780-1861, head of the Smith family listed herein, migrated from the vicinity of Bladensburg, Va, now part of Washington, D. C. According to the story passed on through succeeding generations, James Smith's father, John, was murdered and scalped on the James River in Virginia by the Indians.

The whereabouts of the rest of the family has not been established although the area of Bedford County has several records of Smiths in quantity being in this area. James Smith (1737-1811) and his "Black Boys" attacked the British on their way to sell whiskey and rifles to the Indians at Pittsburgh in 1765. This attack made on Siding Hill is recorded in Swanson's book, "The First Rebel," which was also made into a movie, "Alleghany Uprising." Zack's Ridge, still bearing this name, the home of Zachariah Smith, attests to the fact that Smiths were in this region along with the first settlers.

James Smith's move to southern Pennsylvania must have occurred in the late 1790's or at latest, 1800. His marriage probably occurred in the early 1800's, as his first born, John Smith (Preacher John), arrived on July 17, 1803, (and he is listed in House No. 39, 1850 census, as having been born in Pennsylvania.)

Bedford County tax records for 1823 show James Smith as having 2 horses, 3 cattle and warrants valued at $173.00. Tax, 69 cents. James Smith purchased 5 tracts of land along Sideling Hill Creek and on top of Town Hill, his land totalling 470 acres as listed in the 1843 tax record. Tax $6.74.

The 1850 U. S. Government Census lists House No. 43 as occupied by Jas. Smith, farmer, age 70, and Naomi, his wife, age 74. Also living in the same house were Elizabeth Seward, age 16, and Lot Blankly, male, age 4. It is interesting to note that with the exception of J. Olley Murphy, who was apparently deceased by 1850, all the rest of the eight males and three females of Jas. Smith had established homes and lived in close proximity to the James Smith homestead — Sarah and Henry Smith, House No. 39; James Smith, No. 43; Harvey, No. 44; Harrison, No. 45; Matthew, No. 46; Morgan, No. 47; Priscilla Smith Wigfield, No. 48; Gideon, No. 49; Emmanuel, No. 70; and Hestor Smith Morse, No. 73.

James Smith died in 1861 leaving no will. The estate was divided by appraisal, portions of the acreage being purchased by John, Gideon, Emmanuel, and Henry Smith, husband of Sarah Smith. After the widow's legal share each child received $47.93. James Smith was buried on his farm, and a suitable stone monument was placed thereon by Bertha Shipley, great-granddaughter.

John Smith

John Smith (Preacher John) was the first born of James and Naomi Smith, June 19, 1803. His first wife, whose name we do not know, was the mother of Delilah, Maria, and Levi. His second wife was Sophia Deshong and she was the mother of Elisha, Sarah, William, Catherine, Dennis and Elizabeth. Catherine died Sept. 3, 1884, age 19 years, 5 months, 11 days.

The 1850 census showed daughter Maria married to Wm. Crawford, in house No. 41, close to the balance of the family living in house No. 39, and John Smith's father, the patriarch James, in house No. 43. Daughter Delilah married Jeremiah Hess and lived in the vicinity.

*The 1843 tax records show John Smith owning 271 acres of land and paying $2.66 in taxes. In 1844 his tax liability was reduced to $1.06.

John Smith was active in organizing and conducting services of the Christian Churches in this area for more than 27 years. He assisted in organizing the following churches: Fairview, 1838; Mt. Hope, 1840; Prosperity, 1843; Pleasant Grove, 1843; Bethel, 1845; Greenfield, 1854. He was active in the Southern Pennsylvania Christian Conference, serving on the Committee of Ordination in 1847, and as Conference President in 1852. The Conference Centennial in 1944 celebrating 100 years of Conference history commented in their report as follows: "John Smith. One of the best known of the early ministers. He served the Conference over twenty years, passing away in 1865. A number of his descendants still live in the community. His bible is still to be found in which it is said he marked each text to be preached from."

In the 1852 Conference record reporting on church subscriptions to the travelling preachers, the following comments were recorded: "Elder Miller travelled 1200 miles, received 50 dollars. Elder John Smith reported travelled considerably, received trifling."

We hope our effort to find all descendants of James Smith, Esq. will meet with your approval. We know we have missed many. We trust this book record will stimulate some of the descendants to continue keeping a record so the coming generations will know their ancestors and from where they came. A periodical reunion would do much to keep close ties with distant relatives.

It has taken a long time to compile; much work in getting the record; a lot of fun in meeting and getting to know our relatives. Our reward will be in your use of the information this book contains. We hope you will like it.

INDEX

HOW TO USE GENEALOGICAL RECORD

Every descendant of James Smith, Esq. has been given a letter and a number.

The letter stands for one of the twelve children of James Smith, Esq., which were assigned as follows:

- |                             |                      |
|-----------------------------|----------------------|
| A. John Smith               | G. Sarah Smith Smith |
| B. Elisha Smith             | H. Matthew Smith     |
| C. Hestor Smith Morse       | I. Gideon Smith      |
| D. Priscilla Smith Wigfield | J. Emmanuel Smith    |
| E. Harrison Smith           | K. Harvey Smith      |
| F. J. Olley Smith Murphy    | L. Morgan Smith      |

Children of the above are numbered from 1 on — in sequence of birth. For example, B5 stands for Philip Smith, 5th child of Elisha Smith (B). B5-10 stands for Enfield Scott Smith, 10th child of Philip Smith. Notice the difference between B54-11 and B5411. B54-11 is the eleventh child of Eliza Smith, B54. Hyphens are used when there are more than nine children.

CONDENSED ALLIED FAMILY INDEX

There is a separate and complete index for all descendants of James Smith, Esq. bearing the name Smith.

However, allied families are listed in this condensed index. Only those having descendants in this compilation are listed. For example, Wm. Funk married Lura Bedford, but he is not listed as we have no record of any descendants.

Families, not individuals, are listed. For example, McKibben Shipley married Eliza Smith, B4. So McKibben, Shipley m. Eliza Smith, B41:11 means his descendants are numbered from B4-1 through B4-11.

Wives are referred to their husband's number. For example, Miller, Mary, m. Danford Blair Smith, I6.
